

Biological control – a safe approach to pest management

Annual symposium organized by the Entomological Society of British Columbia

Kwantlen Polytechnic University

(Room Langley 1030)

Saturday October 14th

	Title	Presenter
8.30 – 9.00	Convene: coffee, tea and snacks
9.00 – 9.05	Welcome	Jenny Cory Simon Fraser University
9.05 - 9.35	What is biological control and why do we need it?	Judy Myers University of British Columbia
9.35 - 10.05	Understanding insect behaviour and its influence on weed biocontrol success	Alida Janmaat University of the Fraser Valley
10.05 - 10.35	New developments in augmentative biological control	Brian Spencer Applied Bio-nomics Ltd.
10.35 – 11.00	Tea, coffee and snacks
11.00 – 11.30	Insect pathogens as microbial control agents	Jenny Cory Simon Fraser University
11.30 – 12.00	Invasive insects – is biological control an option?	Tracy Huepplesheuser Plant Health Unit, BC Ministry of Agriculture
12.00 – 12.30	Biological control in cannabis	Amanda Brown Biobest
12.30 – 13.00	Conservation biological control	Renee Prasad University of the Fraser Valley
13.00 – 14.00	LUNCH (provided)	